Developments and information on the performance of financial markets in March

In March the Bank of Albania has decided to increase the base interest rate with 0.25%, reaching the level of 3.00%. The monetary policy followed during this period has had its effect and as a result the inflation rate has decreased during these last months. The treasury bills and bonds interest rates of Albania Government, where assets of Vizion Fund are invested, have decreased during the first quarter of 2023. This drop in rates is expected to continue during the first part of the year and then stabilize during the second part. The assets of Vizion Fund are invested only in T-bills and T-bonds issued by Albania Government and as a result the fund is exposed to changes in the interest rates of these securities therefore, the decrease in interest rates has had a positive impact on the investment portfolio.

During March, the interest rates of the Albanian Government securities in the domestic market generally had a downward trend. The yield of the 12 months Treasury Bill resulted at 3.932% decreasing with 0.05% compared to the auction rate in February. The yield of 3 month Treasury Bill was slightly increased by 0.05% compared to the previous auction.

Regarding the Treasury bonds auctions, the 2-years bond auction, issued in LEK resulted at 4.50% decreasing with 0.85% compared to the last auction rate. The 3-years benchmark bond auction was organized and resulted at 4.604%, decreasing with 0.38% compared to the last auction and the 5-years benchmark bond auction was organized and resulted at 4.841%, decreasing with 0.62% compared to the last auction. The 7-years bond auction resulted at 5.45%, decreasing with 0.55% compared to the last auction.

The chart below gives an overview of interest rate evolution of Treasury Bills and Bonds issued by the Albanian government during the 1-year period March 2022 – March 2023. For the 3 and 5 years reference bonds are presented the fixing yields, calculated from contributors' quotations at the end of March.

Fund Performance and unit value development March 31, 2023

The annual return for the period 31 March 2022 to 31 March 2023 is -0.40%, while the annual return for a 2-year period is 1.51%. The unit value of Vizion Fund had significantly increased by +2.22% during March, as a result of the decrease of the securities interest rates issued by the Albanian Government. The fund recovered a good part of last year's losses caused by the increase in the interest rates of the Albanian Government bonds.

Investors should bear in mind that the investment return varies based on market conditions, especially changes in interest rates of Albanian government securities. Thus, when interest rates increase, the securities value in the portfolio decreases and consequently the rate of return for the previous period decreases. The opposite happens when interest rates fall. Therefore, the Fund unit value can be volatile. Volatility is a natural part of investment funds, and it can never be eliminated, so the unit price of the fund may also fall, not only increase.

We do encourage investors to maintain their investment by not changing their investment objective of staying in fund driven by the unusual situation created by global pandemic, because in this way they will not risk getting out of the fund at the wrong time for their investment.
